although a large majority of believers agree that they should share their faith most report that they in fact do not that s not really all that surprising given today's pluralistic cultural setting but maybe this same culture's longing for transcendence community and a place to call home points to a backstory that makes sense of it all if such a narrative exists it deserves a hearing and those who know and live this story have both the responsibility and privilege of sharing its message of hope the narrative of the bible tells just such a story where god's purpose from the beginning has been to dwell or tabernacle in the midst of the people he has created this book traces the theme of god's tabernacling presence across scripture reading the story afresh through a missional lens in order to gain insights for mission and gospel witness the hope is that readers will awaken wide eyed to the wonder of god's tabernacling presence in our midst that we will live in such a way that others recognize this reality and that we will boldly and joyfully share the good news of Jesus under the direction and power of his indwelling spirit new urban forms characterizing contemporary metropolises reflect a certain continuity with the patterns of the past they also include unexpected forms of settlement and design that have emerged in response to social and economic needs and as a way of leveraging new technologies politics of the periphery sets out to explore sub urban governance in diverse contexts in order to better understand how materiality and space are shaped by the possibilities and constraints of confronting actors this collection edited by pierre hamel examines the empirical aspects of collective action and planning in eight urban regions around the world across north america europe asia and africa and reveals the impacts and consequences of various structures of suburban governance the case studies feature a diverse range of local actors facing both the specificity of their respective milieus and the broader context of extended urbanization as metropolitan regions cope with new territorial challenges the book focuses on suburbanization processes that characterize most of these post metropolitan regions and questions whether it is possible to improve suburban governance in the face of growing uncertainties arising from structural and subjective transformations paying close attention to the relationship between the local and the global politics of the periphery challenges the planning processes of evolving metropolitan regions suburban governance a global view is a groundbreaking set of essays by leading urban scholars that assess how governance regulates the creation of the world's suburban spaces and everyday life within them the practice of christian hospitality reaches back to the early centuries of christian life as well as deep into jewish history life and scripture this practice is alive today in christian churches and in parachurch organizations within the united states but new contextual realities in particular twenty first century global migration patterns have altered the conditions under which hospitality is practiced the reality of migration and its effect on human lives disrupts static conceptions of hospitality and challenges ecclesial communities toward contextual appropriation of hospitality practice this volume explores christian hospitality practice in light of twenty first century u s latino a migration and it develops the notion of a journeying hospitality of accompaniment with and among persons migrating which fosters deeper relationships and formation the shifting identities of persons on the move challenge assumptions about what it means to welcome another in hospitality and ultimately what it means to be church from within these new relationships in turn the new conceptions and expressions of hospitality offered in this book press how the nature and mission of the church will be oriented toward new ecclesial patterns and alternative forms of residing on earth
